Comment Reasons:

Comment:I support this small residential development in Forton, a rural village, as it gives the opportunity for young families to both live in and enhance the local community. These young families will provide the workforce to support our developing economies in engineering and as a energy hub.

It is important to maintain our beautiful area but we can't let it die and this requires housing that compliments the region whilst bringing new life and skill.

The site looks to include a good amount of open space and planting.
