Dear Mr Beckett,

Re: 2020/2469: Church of St Botolph, Church Lane, Barford

Although we do not wish to advise in favour of archaeological mitigation in this case, we would like to point out that the development is within an active cemetery, and there may be a remote possibility of disturbing human burials.

Would you mind advising the applicant of this possibility and advise that if human remains are encountered, the parish priest should be informed and asked to rebury them?

If you have any questions about this advice, please don't hesitate to get in contact.

Kind regards,
