Hi Andrew,

Thank you for your email, and the call yesterday. Please see the attached drawing which amends the red line boundary only.

As nothing substantive has changed between this revision and the submitted drawing that would affect the Part Q, we would appreciate if the original validation date could be retained.

Kind Regards

Andrew

Dear Andrew,

Further to our conversation, I validated this Class Q Prior Approval in error.

The site location plan shows the entirety of the site with a red line around it. The red line needs to be around the proposed barn and curtilage only, with a blue line around the remainder of the land in the applicants ownership.

If you can amend and send through the location and block plan accordingly. The validation date will then be the date the correct details are sent through.

Kind Regards,

Andrew
