Dear Lisa

Thankyou for your letter regarding our application, I'm so sorry but I've made a few errors on the application form which I found quite tricky to do. This is a an application to renew a lapsed application from six years ago. The old application included the request to put a door into the ground floor hallway which we no longer need. The new application should be just for the addition of a second bathroom on the first floor sited in a walkthrough bedroom. I thought I'd attached all the plans from the original application but I don't think they all came through.

Please let Medication know if you need anything further
Kindest regards
Sam Dunn
