

Description/schedule of existing uses on the site:

This land was used as agricultural land but as you can see by the pictures below, the site at Treworgans has been unused since 2001 and the buildings are now classed as derelict. We have shown the approximate area with a red outline.

