Hi Claire

I wrote to formally object the application to build a substantial number of houses at fort halstead. The village of knockholt is already overloaded with traffic, has a small school and a small number of amenities, lack of pavements, lots of children, no doctors or other essential facilities and is an area of natural beauty. There is no need to put this additional strain on a village without the infrastructure to cope.

It's an unwanted and unnecessary use of green belt land.
