Subject: Fort Halstead, latest planning application

Cannot believe the housing developer has pushed forward another application in these difficult times. Does he think it could slip through the net whilst residents in Kent are concentrating on covid virus implications in their present employment?

Another 200 houses have been added – what jobs will these new residents find to do? Why is a new village needed? Green Belt land should not be touched and hopefully we are now caring more for our green environment. Ann Trebell
