Ref: The Larch
Dower House GU26 6DF

The larch is infected with Dyers Mazegill Phaeolus Schweinitzii.

I have been monitoring it for about 3 years and it is getting progressively worse. If and when it fails, it has the potential to reach the main road, or hang over the road.

The effect of mazegill is loss of tensile strength and stem base fracture.

I am requesting permission to fell the tree for safety reasons.

Yours truly,
Graham Taylor (tree surgeon)
