

Original I had proposed to connect the foul sewerage to the excising septic tank of our main property. After reviewing the logistics of the task I have now decided not to go ahead with this as planned.

Instead I will now be installing a cassette toilet so as to keep the foul sewerage completely separate from our main home.