Layers

Novatik NATURA tile consists of a premium quality steel core, protected against corrosion by a layer of Al-Zn on both sides, over which there is a further protective layer of acrylic resin. A coating of volcanic rock chips, which have been colour treated (up to a temperature of 900°C) to provide uniformity of colour and increased ultraviolet resistance, is then applied to a specially formulated basecoat, which binds the chips in place. Finally, a transparent acrylic coating is added to provide gloss and increased mechanical strength.
