To whom it may concern,

I think the addition of an aldi store in old skelmersdale would be a massive positive to the community. We dont have a great deal in the town and although people may feel the loss at the concourse the premises of the old coop bank would be much much better. I have to travel out to ormskirk or burscough but having an aldi in old skelmersdale would be so much hardier. Bigger premises so more job opportunities which would be good for employment and better parking facilities too
