Application to remove condition 2:

On further investigation of the site where the solar panels will be placed, we have realised that the shed housing the battery and generator will cast a shadow over part of the panels for some of the day. For this reason, we are going to place the battery and generator elsewhere. There is a small container on site, and it has been in position for around 11 years. It cannot be seen from any vantage point apart from on the site itself. It is ideally situated, halfway between the solar panels and workshop. The container has been inspected by a representative from the solar panel installation company, and he has confirmed that it is suitable for our needs. I attach photos of different angles, plus a site plan indicating where the container is located.

We are not erecting a new shed so Condition 2 no longer applies. I reiterate that the container has been in position for 11 years, is not visible, will not be moved, and is suitable for our needs. There will be no noticeable exterior change at all.
