

The current structure has not been altered in any significant way. The garage has been renovated, had existing windows replaced and the garage door replaced with a uPVC stable door and window. All accessibility has remained exactly the same with the exception of allowing pedestrian access to the building as opposed to vehicular. In short, we have replaced the car door opening with a regular door/window frontage (see photos attached)

The driveway and pathway to the house remain completely unaltered.