Hi David,

I've just spoken to our client who are the owners of the building. They have advised that the full building is currently let to Glasgow City Council who use the whole building as accommodation to support individuals who are experiencing crises related to homelessness, including those with addiction, mental health, financial destitution, trauma, isolation and relationship/family breakdown issues. As such the building is not broken down into individual flat addresses. The attached brochure provides a bit more background.

Hopefully this helps.

Thanks

Graeme
