Legal Description

House. C17 with later additions. Timber framed with brick infill; plain tile roof; brick integral end stacks. Formerly a single-cell house aligned north-east/south-west facing north-west, C20 extension to the north-east replacing a timber framed lean-to. C17 house to the right, early C20 extension to the left. C17 house: 2 storeys and attic, the upper floors are lit from the gable end, 3 square panels to eaves and slightly curved braces; one casement with latticed panes to ground floor left; central Victorian timber framed porch with iron gate. C20 extension: 2 storeys, 2 windows, ground floor bay window to left under a canopy, extended to the right to shelter a door. The extension incorporates reused timber probably from the former lean-to. The right hand (south-west) gable has an exposed roof truss with 3 vertical struts between collar and tie beam. Old photograph showing the former lean-to in possession of the occupier at time of resurvey (September 1985).
