In principle this is acceptable. I would submit a revised application using your free go if it is less than a year from the date of the approval. I assume the height would stay the same so if this is the case I would say the works are of a similar scale and description as the previous application and therefore it would qualify as a revised application.

t is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.
For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
