Morning

I've copied my colleague, Andy, into this response as he may be able to help here.

Kind regards

Good Morning

Further to your email below, A1 is the paper size.

I am measuring this electronically.

The plan states the scale is 1:20, and the width of the shop front is shown to be 4870. When I measure at 1:20 scale it comes out at 1.26

The side is shown to be 880. When I measure it is only 0.23.

Kind Regards

Afternoon

I am told it is scaled A1 which is commonly used by architects.

Kind regards

Good Afternoon

I am sorry, but this plan is still not to scale. It may be the way its been saved or scanned.

Please check and re-send.

Good Afternoon

I have just sent through an acknowledgement for the above application by mistake.

I apologise for this. The application is invalid as the proposed plan is not to scale and I need confirmation that both side elevations are the same.

I have sent a further email with an invalid letter attached to it.

Kind regards
