Permitted development rights are subject to conditions set by legislation to ensure that only appropriate proposals are eligible. The need to apply to the Local Planning Authority to see if prior approval is required is one such condition.

The questions below will help determine if the proposals are eligible for this permitted development right.

Agricultural tenants

To be eligible for this permitted development right, all parties to any agricultural tenancy agreements that are currently in place, or that have been terminated in the year before development is proposed to begin, need to provide consent.

This is to help ensure that agricultural tenants are not displaced to allow a change of use to be carried out.

Yes

No

Evidence that site is no longer required - Please use the supporting documents section to attach a copy of the written confirmation from all relevant landlords and tenants stating that they agree the site is no longer required for any agricultural use.

Dwellinghouses and floor space

To be eligible for this permitted development right, the number and size of dwellinghouses developed has to be within the limits set by legislation.

This includes any dwellinghouses that were previously developed under this permitted development right.

- No more than a total of 5 dwellinghouses (including no more than 3 larger dwellinghouses) can be developed;
- No single dwellinghouse can exceed 465 square metres of floor space; and
- The total combined floor space of all the larger dwellinghouses developed cannot exceed 465 square metres.

For the purposes of this permitted development right:

- 'Larger dwellinghouse' means a dwellinghouse (Use Class C3) which has a floor space of more than 100 square metres but no more than 465 square metres.

Description of Proposed Works, Impacts and Risks

Please describe the proposed development, including:

- The siting and location of the building(s); and
- From 1 August 2020, details on the provision of adequate natural light in all habitable rooms of the dwellinghouses

Proposed conversion of Boggarts former Grain Store agricultural building to a single residential 4-bed dwelling with associated curtilage under Class Q of the Town & County Planning (General Permitted Development ) (England) Order 2015 (as amended).

Are any associated building works or other operations required to make this change?

Note that such works are restricted to those listed below that are reasonably necessary to convert the building(s) for use as a dwellinghouse:

- the installation or replacement of windows, doors, roofs, or exterior walls;
- the installation or replacement of water, drainage, electricity, gas or other services;
- partial demolition to the extent reasonably necessary to carry out the works listed above.

Yes

No

If yes, please provide details of the design and external appearance of the building(s) in regard to these building works or other operations:

There are minimal changes to the external appearance of the existing building as evidenced by drawings 2119-010, 2119-011 Existing Elevations and 2119-200, 2119-201 Proposed Elevations. The proposal utilises the existing openings in the building envelope and the scheme has been designed to allow windows and doors to coordinate with the existing fenestration. As the number of new openings in the building envelope have been minimised, the design and appearance of the conversion is in keeping with both the existing building and the wider rural area. The proposed external sliding barn doors are appropriate to the conversion which aims to enhance the immediate rural surroundings. The existing steel structure is also to be retained in the conversion. As such, the material, form, and character of the existing building is maintained.

Please provide details of any transport and highways impacts and how these will be mitigated:

The associated highways impact arising from the single dwelling will be minimal and lesser than its former agricultural use. There will also be no change to the access to the site, as vehicular entry will be via the established existing access.

Please provide details of any noise impacts and how these will be mitigated:

As the building subject to conversion is adjacent to an existing residential dwelling and no other sources of noise pollution, it is unlikely there will be a noise impact which will cause future residents any noise amenity concerns.

Please provide details of any contamination risks and how these will be mitigated:

We are not aware of any contamination risks from a former agricultural operation (e.g. use of chemicals or storage of fuel tanks). And this has been confirmed by the applicant. Due to the use of the property being limited for the purpose of drying grain and the grain dryer being powered by mains electricity, it is understood that there has been no use of chemicals or storage of fuel at the property. Therefore, the property does not require a Phase 1 Contaminated Land Assessment or any associated remediation works to be undertaken.

Please provide details of any flooding risks and how these will be mitigated.

A flood risk assessment should accompany the application where the site:

- is in Flood Zones 2 or 3; or
- is in an area with critical drainage problems (such areas will have been notified to the Local Planning Authority by the Environment Agency).

Check if your site location is in Flood Zone 2 or 3 online.

Check with your Local Planning Authority to see if your site is in an area with critical drainage problems.

Whilst a residential use is a more vulnerable use in terms of flood risk classification; the site lies within Flood Zone 1 (lowest risk of flooding) and as such, there is no known flood risk.
