As part of a site visit by Callum Harvey & Alex Campbell, advice was given as to what type of application was required and specific details that were important to note with regards to the retrospective permission sought - namely the percentage increase of the rear extension, from existing to proposed extension, cladding and materials used.

Please note, this didn't form part of an official pre-application as the general site development had already been approved (under the significantly larger application - 20/03388/FUL). We also understood that the alterations to the cottage fell under permitted development had it been a residential application.

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?
