Colour: ThermoWood

The Kingfisher is a 6ft wide timber greenhouse manufactured by Swallow greenhouses. Hand made in Rotherham, the Kingfisher greenhouse is manufactured from thick Thermowood timber for a really sturdy frame (58mm x 34mm timber glazing bars). Thermowood is heat treated timber, which prevents warping and gives a high resistance to rot. The low-height boarded panels, offer a traditional appearance, and provide better heat retention during the colder months.

The greenhouse is fitted with 3mm toughened safety glass throughout, sealed in place with high performance silicone. Each roof vent is automatically opening, with a Bayliss XL auto-vent fitted per vent. The auto-vents help regulate the temperature of the greenhouse, by opening when too warm and staying closed when too cool.

Also included with every greenhouse is one side of full length staging. Staging is a great workspace area in a greenhouse, situated at waist height, they're perfect for planting and potting on seeds, storage of your tools and a place for those smaller height plants and vegetables.

Another great reason to buy Swallow, is that each building is delivered and installed, by the company's own team of expert fitters. All you need to have prepared, is a suitable base.

A 10-year warranty is also included, safe in the knowledge that you are purchasing a building with many years of use to come.

Please note:

Free installation of the building onto is on to a level base installed by the customer. Swallow will require a photograph of the base before the current quoted lead time will begin.

Delivery and fitting of this greenhouse to most of mainland England, Wales and southern Scotland is FREE. Areas north of Glasgow will be subject to a charge. Delivery costs will be calculated and displayed at checkout before any payment is required.

The stated lead times are effective from the moment you send Swallow greenhouses photographic confirmation, that your base is ready.

You will be contacted with a delivery date when your greenhouse is ready, we will inform you a week before delivery via the telephone. This greenhouse is delivered straight from the workshop and installed by the manufactures on to your level base. We will send you a base plan in the post a few days after you order so you can get this ready before the greenhouse arrives.

Delivery to Scotland, Devon and Cornwall typically takes 12 - 14 weeks.
