

Heritage statement

The proposed development, which is of a minor character, will have negligible impact on the character of the Amberley Conservation area or on adjacent listed buildings, notably St Michael's Church. The installation of solar panels will not affect the profile of the building or affect sightlines from the church or the churchyard. It will be invisible from street level. The proposed panels are black and will have minimal visual impact.