

Design and access statement

To whom it may concern.

The works to be done are to the chimneys of the building and away from any access considerations.

Therefore, the proposed development is a suitable response to the site needs and its setting and demonstrating that it can be adequately accessed by prospective users.

Kind regards,

Cynthia Barlow