Hello,

I'm just wondering if someone could help me with regards to planning permission for my shop signs.

I have recently refurbished this derelict building and given the building a new lease of life, the shops signs are in the exact same place and are using the same fixtures as any previous signs that would have been there would have.

All colours are in keeping with the heritage of the building, I have attached some pictures so you can see what they look like and have also attached the application so you can see all measurements and details.

Hopefully hear from someone soon,

Kind Regards,
