We would like to change the design on the rear of the our property to facilitate the installation of flat solar panels. This would not be visable by anyone and would not change the visual aspect of the property.

The solar panels have been incorporated in to the design on an area of flat roof to the rear, completely concealed from public view by the returned hips at either end of the gabled dormer and the timber board fencing to side and rear boundaries.

A similar design is underway on the new house build on Berry Hill (21/1847/FUL - 22/1981/VAR)

I trust that this information provides sufficient detail to enable swift validation and positive consideration and determination.
