Good Morning,

In addition to the below the existing floorplan vs the proposed floorplan appears to show that the proposal includes the demolition of a rear extension, please advise.

Many Thanks

Good Morning,

Many thanks for the below and the attached, please find below your amended reasons for invalidity expanded upon as required:

4) Please supply existing elevation drawings.

This plan needs to show what the property looks like as existing from the north west and south west.

6) Please supply proposed elevation drawings.

This plan needs to show what the property looks like as proposed from the north west and south west.

You have submitted a proposed north west elevation but it shows the property as a single storey dwelling when the property is actually a two storey dwelling.

Many Thanks

Sharon Embleton
