

In regards to the Trees, they are relatively new Beech trees (not yet established) and fall away from any proposed development. They have been added since the last time we were involved on work, on this site in 2015, so are not key in the heritage of the site.

I have attached some photos of the trees and have asked the current manager of the site for sizes of the trees, information as follows:

Height of trees 10-15ft (middle tree being the smallest)

Diameter of the trunk approx. - max 150mm

Pruning of the trees will be carried out twice a year, and any proposed structures will not prevent access to the trees.

Root Protection area shown on drawing

Kind Regards,

Chloe Ingle