GENERAL

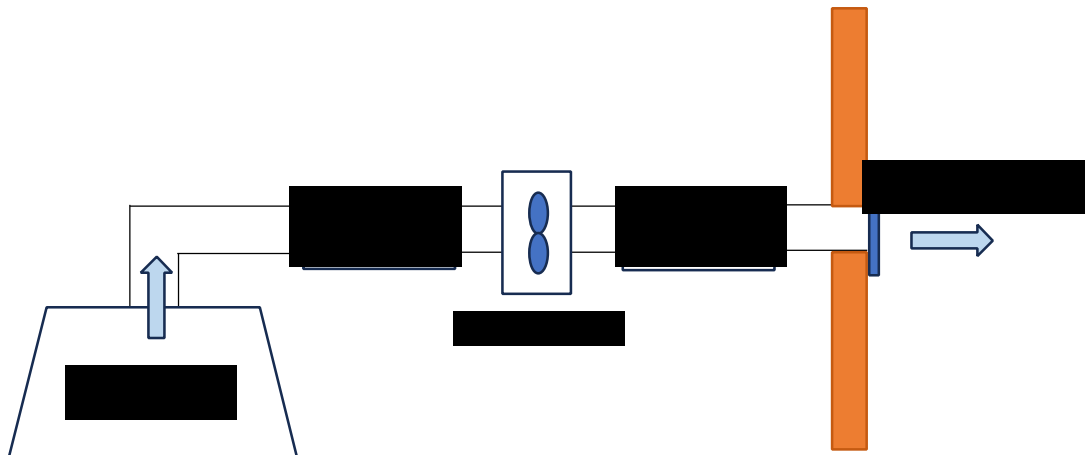

Dear Sir.

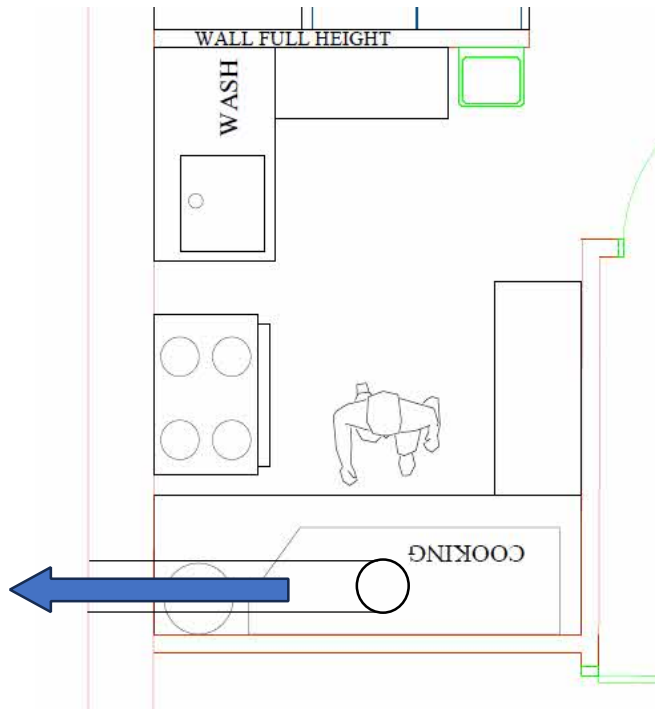

Further to our recent site visit to the store, to investigate options for your food prep extraction.

For your proposed bake-off extraction system, we would install a Stainless Steel canopy with filter above the cooking area. The canopy would be attached to a suitable steel duct, with an inline fan, to extract through the external wall terminating with a steel grill.

The ducting would be fitted with access hatches to facilitate cleaning and maintenance.

The inline fan is rated at 45 dB(A) @ 3m "Breakout Sound Level", we would also recommend the installation of 2 additional acoustic silencers to fitted to either side of the fan, which would reduce the noise levels by an additional 10 dB(A).
