Principle of Development. The application site is outside the settlement boundary of Mendham. As such the proposal is for new residential development in the countryside, contrary to H7 of the Local Plan, and CS1 and CS2 of the Core Strategy. However, the principle of the conversion of the building to residential use has been accepted – see planning history above. DC/19/05690 approved the conversion under the specific Class Q regulations. A later planning application DC/20/02163 was approved which amended some design details of the conversion and proposed a new vehicular access. Subject to the design details the conversion of the building to a single dwelling would be acceptable in principle.
