Richard Wernham Statutory Declaration

Statutory Declaration

In support of Appeal Reference APP/D3640/C/22/3312913 and Linked Appeal References APP/D3640/C/22/3312915 and APP/D3640/C/22/3312916, against Surrey Heath Borough Council Enforcement Notice reference 20/0019/ENF at:

Land at Easigrass, Hillings Nursery, Bagshot Road, Chobham, GU24 8DB

I, Richard Wernham, sole trader at RSR Tree Surgery, solemnly and sincerely make this Statutory Declaration in support of Appeal Reference APP/D3640/C/22/3312913 and linked appeal references APP/D3640/C/22/3312915 and APP/D3640/C/22/3312916 against Surrey Heath Borough Council Enforcement Notice reference 20/0019/ENF.

In this declaration I use the following descriptions of the land that we own or lease:

- The "Ownership/Lease site" (OLS), which is the area of land shown in Exhibit 1.
- The "Planning Unit Site" (PUS), which is the area of land shown in Exhibit 2.
- The "Enforcement Notice Site (ENS)", which is the area of land shown in Exhibit 3.

The ENS falls entirely within the PUS. The PUS falls entirely within the OLS.

I DECLARE AS FOLLOWS:

1. I worked for Johnsons of Whixley from 2002, shortly after they arrived at the site. I was Transport Manager/driver for Johnsons delivering plants to garden designers around London. The plants were often grown in Johnsons' northern nursery, and had been brought down to this site, which was a wholesale business for London and the South East. Plants were brought here, maintained and nurtured, before being taken to customers. There was also storage of equipment and materials. I have been shown pages of Johnsons 2011 amenity catalogue (enclosed at my Exhibit 4). I confirm that the items advertised on that brochure demonstrate some of the variety and different types of products that Johnsons would keep at the site.
2. I left Johnsons in 2007- to retrain as a tree surgeon. After training I worked for other people for around three years before setting up my own business.
3. I set up my business 2011 and that is when I returned to this site. Since then I have been working as a sole trader and store my tools and equipment on the site.
4. Originally in 2011 I stored my equipment in a shipping container in the southern part of the OLS.

5. After I got broken into, I moved the shipping container into the PUS in 2013. After I got broken into again, I then moved out of the container and moved into the long building (north-south building in the centre of the site). That was probably later in 2015. I have been in that building at the northernmost area ever since.
6. I have always parked my van on site, in different places, including at the north east and the north west, wherever was convenient.
7. I have done lots of tree surgery work for Landform over the years. I'm not sure how long exactly but way back from our early years on site. I've also done a job for Easigrass some years back.

Mixed Use

8. I refer to my Exhibit 5, which is comprised of aerial images from January 1999 (Figure Number 1) and March 2022 (Figure Number 25). These images contain a red line around the land that I understand is currently used by Easigrass (Distribution) Limited, Landform, Andy Thorne Groundworks, RSR Tree Surgeon and T.Hilling & Co Ltd. A number of other organisations/people have occupied this land since 1999. The red line on Exhibit 2 is the Planning Unit Site and the blue line on Exhibit 1 is the remainder of the Ownership/Lease Site.
9. Figure 3 (January 2005) shows the PUS being operated by Johnsons of Whixley Ltd, of which I was employee. and the site was operating as the southern depot for the Johnsons business. This was for both storage, holding of plants and growing plants, that would then be distributed around London and the south east. They had head office and commercial nursery in Yorkshire.
10. Figure 4 (March 2005): No change. Johnsons continued to operate.
11. Figure 5 (June 2006): No change. Johnsons continued to operate.
12. Figure 10 July (2011): This is around about when I returned to the site. I was in the southern part at this time, towards the east.
13. Figure 11 (April 2013): I can see my shipping container on this photograph in the north western part of the site.
14. Figure 12 (June 2013): No change.
15. Figure 13 (February 2014): No change.
16. Figure 14 (March 2014): No change.

17. Figure 15 (June 2015): This photograph shows Morris Leslie on site, particularly the hardstanding area in the north west section of the site. ML were a company that hired commercial machinery and plant. I remember some resurfacing work taking place to the east of the long building at that time and this can be seen on the photograph.

18. Figure 16 (March 2017): In this photograph, I remained in the long building.

19. Figure 17 (May 2018): I know a car wash was operating in the northern part of the site near the main entrance. Figures 8 to 1 are all the same. I was in the long building and there were a variety of users in the rest of the PUS. I would describe this as a mix of storage, growing, parking, etc.

Retail Use

20. In the period during which I have been involved with site, I have never seen any retail use, other than Christmas trees occasionally being sold by T Hilling over the last few years.

Hardstanding

21. The land shown blue on the Enforcement Notice has always some form of a hardstanding surface. I used to drive forklifts up and down the tarmac in this area when I was at Johnsons. There were some shingle infills when I was at Johnsons. I can see that the surface has been changed to concrete.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the provisions of the Statutory Declarations Act 1835

How trees are specified: a bit about the common form of trees & hedging

In common with plants and shrubs, trees and hedging are specified by reference to their botanical names eg. Acer campestre, Quercus robur and then by:

- ➔ Form
- ➔ Age/Cultivar or variety
- ➔ Proportion transplanted
- ➔ Root collar diameter at ground level or girth at 1 metre
- ➔ Overall height
- ➔ Clear stem height
- ➔ Root form – bare root, rootballed, container size

FORMS AVAILABLE

The commonest forms in which trees and hedging are sold are listed below and opposite. In describing them in more detail, we use definitions to be found in the National Plant Specification of the Horticultural Trades Association.

TRANSPLANTS

Transplanted seedlings in the form of bare root plants or ball and burlap. The term usually refers to trees and shrubs that are transplanted from one site to another. At the time of transplanting the main roots are cut back to reduce the size of the root system. The plants are transplanted with adequate fertilising nutrients. In the case of trees, the root system will be well developed by the time the plants are available for transplanting.

WHIPS

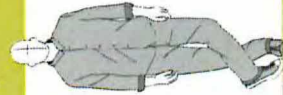

are bare-rooted cuttings of the stem, without significant side branches. The term usually refers to trees and shrubs that are between two and four years old. The plants are transplanted with adequate fertilising nutrients. In the case of trees, the root system will be well developed by the time the plants are available for transplanting.

FEATHERED TREES

usually have an upright growth habit, comprising a central stem and a dense canopy of fine, feathery branches. The term usually refers to trees and shrubs that are between two and four years old. The plants are transplanted with adequate fertilising nutrients. In the case of trees, the root system will be well developed by the time the plants are available for transplanting.

STANDARDS

are trees with a substantially upright growth habit, comprising a central stem and a dense canopy of fine, feathery branches. The term usually refers to trees and shrubs that are between two and four years old. The plants are transplanted with adequate fertilising nutrients. In the case of trees, the root system will be well developed by the time the plants are available for transplanting.

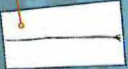

HOW BIG IS BIG?
SOME OF THE TREES WE SUPPLY ARE SO BIG THEY WANT FEW MAINTENANCE POLICE EXCEPT!

PLEASE NOTE
trees illustrated below are for reference only and are not necessarily in proportion to one another.

OTHER FORMS AVAILABLE
Some more common forms in which trees are sold are listed below. Once again we use definitions to be found in the National Plant Specification of the Horticultural Trades Association.

SEEDLING
Seedlings are woody plants which have been grown from seed and not transplanted. Seedlings are rarely used in landscape planting but are often used in forestry schemes.

CUTTING
Cuttings are woody plants from shoots, stems, or roots of a mother plant. They are usually grown from horizontal stems or cuttings in sand or peat for one or two years. Popular softwood cuttings are typically grown from leafwood cuttings and bought as one or two year old plants for landscape planting.

SEMI-MATURE
Semi-mature trees and shrubs have an overall height in excess of 4 metres and/or a stem girth measurement of 20 centimetres or larger. These trees are likely to be more than ten years old at the time of sale.

MULTISTEMMED
Multi-stemmed trees have two or more main stems arising from or near ground level, growing from one root system. This form is common in natural populations of the tree.

MAIDEN
Maidens are low worked woody plants in which the stem has grown for one year or more. They are usually bought as a head or stem on to a container. The term could apply to other commercially grown ornamental trees which have been propagated in the same way.

BUSHY
Bushy trees have many main stems arising from the base and have been grown from one root system and which have been transplanted and grown on to a size in excess of 2.5 metres. These trees give immediate landscape impact. Typically bushy trees are Acer campestre, Abies grandis, Cotoneaster spp and Salix alba.
