Hi Vasugi,

apologies for delay, this went into my Junk folder! - I have marked you as a safe sender now...

the slats will be installed Vertically. This is the same as the neighbour at the end of the block (no. 44) - so hopefully its all in keeping.

re: "seeking planning permission and not permitted development rights" - I don't know what the difference is. I originally went down the pre-planning route as I didn't think it would require "full blown" planning permission, but the response I got back was I had to go down the full planning permission route.

Any additional insight you can provide on that would be welcome.

Hello,

The development control manager has now assessed your application; she wants to know whether the slats are going to be installed vertically or horizontally. Please see email below.

Also, can I make sure that the application submitted is seeking planning permission and not permitted development rights. You have already has pre application enquiry response for the same proposal. Please amend the description and send it directly to me.

Thanks and regards,
Technical Planning Support

Hi Sugi,

The illustration submitted shows the wooden boarding vertical. Is this correct or are the wooden slats going to be inserted horizontally.

I also note that a pre application response was sent 04.10.2023 and yet the applicant is asking whether it is PD. Do they want to pursue this application?

Regards

Basia
