Dear Planners

I would like to report two breaches of planning in the SDNP conservation area.

Firstly Outside a house called Woodpeckers on the Several Road, Bepton and second outside the Three Moles pub in Selham.

Both of these are near Midhurst/Petworth.

Both of them have recently taken down a tree and carved an enormous monstrosity out of the tree – one is woodepecks and birds and one is three moles and pints of beer and doors.

I don't understand why these things don't need planning permission for these huge structures which change the environment so significantly when you cannot change the colour of a shop wall exterior in Midhurst.
