Details of the pre-application advice received

We presented the report and summary to Lesley and Alma of Historic England. They were in agreement with the summary and approach to the cast iron re-use. Although there are still some question marks around the approach to some items, these won't be resolved until construction and don't have an affect on the overall strategy, so Lesley and Alma were happy for the report and appendices to be submitted as they are, in order to discharge the condition.
