

Prior notification of redevelopment of Agricultural Buildings

Land Contamination CheckList

Contamination isamaterialplanningconsideration. Wherea site is planned for redevelopmentandhas had historiccommercial and industrial uses we normally require a formal investigation for land contamination. This is because previous industrial uses may have caused the land to be contaminated and posedarisk of harm to future users and receptors.

Planningpermissionis not deemednecessaryforredevelopmentof agriculturalbuildings conformingto permitted developmentprovisions, and one criteriais that contamination risk on the sitemust be considered. Often the previous usewas such that is it is unlikely presented a significant risk and it would be unreasonable to require a formal investigation. However the varied activities and use of farmbuildings over the years can in some cases lead to contamination which needs to be addressed prior to a change of use to residential occupation.

Furtherinformationrelating tocontaminatedland canbefound on our website in the planning advice and guidance section, which contains the Essex Technical Guidance.

This questionnaire has been prepared to trytoreduce theneedforfullplanningapplication accompanied by a site investigation. Please note that if we do not receive a completed questionnaire we may require a full application, which if approved may have a condition applied requiring a comprehensive survey for contamination.

Youshould be aware thatactions oromissions could lead to liability under legislation such as the Environmental Protection Act 1990 part 2 Awhere development fails to address an existing unacceptable risk or creates such as risk by introducing new receptor or pathwa
