The Purpose of this Map

This map is for anyone looking to get around Plymouth on foot or by bike. If you are visiting Plymouth for the first time, we welcome you and recommend that you take a look at our places of interest and get around using sustainable transport so you can take in all the sights of the 'Ocean City'. We even have information about cycle hire if you do not have a bike!

Walking & Cycling for Health

Walking is accessible to almost everyone. Walking and cycling are good for your health and a great way to socialise or meet people in your neighbourhood. This map can help you find local green spaces near you.

Interesting Fact!

Plymouth holds Green Flag Awards for many of our green spaces. We also have 13 Local Nature Reserves in Plymouth. To find out more about these green spaces you can visit our website plymouth.gov.uk/parksnatureandgreenspaces

If you are getting around Plymouth by bike, you might find this map very useful as it can help you plan your route according to your ability.

- Contour and colour graduations help you to spot the hills. Flatter routes will cross fewer contours.
- Quiet and traffic calmed roads which are useful to cyclists are highlighted in yellow.
- We have attempted to show all roads and paths legally available for cyclists to use.
- Bridleways and minor roads are shown regardless of their condition and suitability for cycling. In general private roads are not shown.

This map also includes some information to help you get started with cycling or finding walking and cycling groups.

Good Cycling Code

On all routes: Please be courteous! Always cycle with respect for others (cyclists, pedestrians, people in wheelchairs, drivers and horse riders) and acknowledge those who give way to you.
Remember that many people are hard of hearing or visually impaired. Do not assume they can see or hear you.

When cycling on shared use paths please:

- Don't cycle at high speeds, be prepared to slow down or stop if necessary.
- Give way to pedestrians, leaving them plenty of room.
- Keep to your side of any dividing line.
- Be careful at junctions, bends and entrances, watch out for people emerging from shops.

When cycling on roads:

- Always follow the Highway Code.
- Be seen - most collisions involving cyclists happen at junctions.
- Wear conspicuous clothing and consider wearing a helmet.
- Don't cycle too close to the kerb or parked cars.
- Keep your bike roadworthy.
- Don't cycle on pavements except where designated - pavements are for pedestrians.
- Be aware of the possibility of pedestrians having not seen you and stepping into your path.

Common Signs

Advanced Stop Lines

These are designed to improve safety and convenience for cyclists. When in the advanced position, cyclists can be seen by motorists, thus reducing the chance of conflict as vehicles turn left.

Cycle Parking & Security

Whenever you leave your bike in a public place, always lock it by securing the frame of the bike to a permanent fixture such as a solid bike stand. Wheels and saddles should be locked up if they have quick release levers. It's best to use a strong, good quality lock, especially if your bike is valuable. Also, try to park in an area which is on view to pedestrians and other road users.

Total Rates:			7.938			7.907			15.845

This section displays the trip rate results based on the selected set of surveys and the selected count type (shown just above the table). It is split by three main columns, representing arrivals trips, departures trips, and total trips (arrivals plus departures). Within each of these main columns are three sub-columns. These display the number of survey days where count data is included (per time period), the average value of the selected trip rate calculation parameter (per time period), and the trip rate result (per time period). Total trip rates (the sum of the column) are also displayed at the foot of the table.

To obtain a trip rate, the average (mean) trip rate parameter value (TRP) is first calculated for all selected survey days that have count data available for the stated time period. The average (mean) number of arrivals, departures or totals (whichever applies) is also calculated (COUNT) for all selected survey days that have count data available for the stated time period. Then, the average count is divided by the average trip rate parameter value, and multiplied by the stated calculation factor (shown just above the table and abbreviated here as FACT). So, the method is: COUNT/TRP*FACT. Trip rates are then rounded to 3 decimal places.

This section displays the trip rate results based on the selected set of surveys and the selected count type (shown just above the table). It is split by three main columns, representing arrivals trips, departures trips, and total trips (arrivals plus departures). Within each of these main columns are three sub-columns. These display the number of survey days where count data is included (per time period), the average value of the selected trip rate calculation parameter (per time period), and the trip rate result (per time period). Total trip rates (the sum of the column) are also displayed at the foot of the table.

To obtain a trip rate, the average (mean) trip rate parameter value (TRP) is first calculated for all selected survey days that have count data available for the stated time period. The average (mean) number of arrivals, departures or totals (whichever applies) is also calculated (COUNT) for all selected survey days that have count data available for the stated time period. Then, the average count is divided by the average trip rate parameter value, and multiplied by the stated calculation factor (shown just above the table and abbreviated here as FACT). So, the method is:  $COUNT/TRP*FACT$ . Trip rates are then rounded to 3 decimal places.

This section displays the trip rate results based on the selected set of surveys and the selected count type (shown just above the table). It is split by three main columns, representing arrivals trips, departures trips, and total trips (arrivals plus departures). Within each of these main columns are three sub-columns. These display the number of survey days where count data is included (per time period), the average value of the selected trip rate calculation parameter (per time period), and the trip rate result (per time period). Total trip rates (the sum of the column) are also displayed at the foot of the table.

To obtain a trip rate, the average (mean) trip rate parameter value (TRP) is first calculated for all selected survey days that have count data available for the stated time period. The average (mean) number of arrivals, departures or totals (whichever applies) is also calculated (COUNT) for all selected survey days that have count data available for the stated time period. Then, the average count is divided by the average trip rate parameter value, and multiplied by the stated calculation factor (shown just above the table and abbreviated here as FACT). So, the method is: COUNT/TRP*FACT. Trip rates are then rounded to 3 decimal places.
