Thank you for your email and thank you for providing the answers I requested.
I understand that your property is in Hanger Hill Garden Estate Conservation Area. As you may already know, single dwellinghouses benefit from permitted development rights which allow owners to build certain things without planning permission as long as they meet the criteria of the General Permitted Development Order 2015. (For example, outbuildings can be built without planning permission if they meet the criteria of Class E: Buildings etc). However, in Conservation Areas, some permitted development rights are removed.
The below link lists which permitted development rights are removed in Conservation Areas within Ealing. The below screenshot is taken from this website and it does not list that permitted development rights for outbuildings have been removed.
Article 4 Directions About conservation areas Ealing Council
Therefore, you would be able to build the pergola without planning permission as long as the specific criteria of Class E is met. You may apply for a Certificate of Proposed Use which acts as a document to prove that the pergola would be permitted development.
The below bullet points are taken from Class E and must be met for the pergola to be considered permitted development

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.
For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
Do any of the above statements apply? ○ Yes ⊙ No
