Hi Don,

Further to our conversation earlier, here's the standard response regarding copyright acknowledgement:

For clarification, the Ordnance Survey, digital geographic data provided by Latitude Mapping Limited is not "owned" by you, the user and your colleagues and contractors. The digital geographic data is in a legal sense instead licensed to you, "the customer", for a specific period of time according to the terms of Ordnance Survey to whom the copyright in the digital geographic data provided belongs.

The correct copyright acknowledgement and licence number must be used. Irrespective of the output, acknowledgements are always required and each individual image using Ordnance Survey data must contain the appropriate acknowledgement(s). Non-compliance may incur royalties at normal commercial use rates.

Please use the following copyright acknowledgement notice: © Crown copyright 2024, All rights reserved. Licence number AC000080698

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards

Nick
