MONTANA SMOOTH & TEXTURED

Lovers of natural slates will certainly find what they are looking for at the Montana product range. This blue-black slate has natural looking dressed edges and is available with a textured or smooth surface. The different sizes make it possible to create a rural or more rustic character.

Moreover, Montana slates not only have the looks of natural slates, but also all the advantages of fibre cement. The direction of the relief on the Montana textured slates is always vertical.

THE ADVANTAGES OF A MONTANA SLATE

Montana slates are dimensionally stable and therefore do not need to be pre-sorted, which makes installation easier. Montana slates have a constant quality because they always have the same shape and thickness. The dressed edges of each slate are unique and making it look very natural. Moreover, the Montana slates are available in larger sizes, which also makes installation easier and quicker. The Montana slates are insensitive to breakage due to pyrite crystals, cracks, bumps and cavities that often occur with natural slates.
