Description of Proposed Works

Please describe the proposed works

The barn next to Hill House is in need of renovation. The cladding is rotting away and the render is damaged, cracked and collapsing in places. The barn doors, stable door and windows are rotting and may need replacing but certainly repair.

The original guttering is damaging the render and will need repairing.

Without serious intervention damage to the barn will accelerate. I would like the barn to be dry and sound before next winter. The foundations look good but if there is some subsidence I propose to repair this as well.

The work is focusing only on the outside of the building.

Has the work already been started without consent?

Yes

Biodiversity net gain

Householder developments are currently exempt from biodiversity net gain requirements.

However, this exemption still needs to be confirmed by the applicant or agent when making a householder planning permission application.

I/we confirm that the proposed development, if granted permission, would be exempt from the general biodiversity gain condition.

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (as amended) sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'general biodiversity gain condition'.

However, the 'general biodiversity gain condition' does not apply in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of Article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 (as amended).

Regarding the list of works proposed for the barn, the replacement cladding and the replacement of the barn doors would require Listed Building Consent. If you can retain and repair the doors, consent would not be needed.

The rest of the works would be considered like-for-like repairs which would not require Listed Building Consent.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
