

Thank you for your below email. I hopefully attach the following:

1. photo of the roof which I have marked in blue approx area where the inline roof tile vent would go
2. example of roof tile vent on a roof so roofer can get tile to match my colour tiles
3. link here for an example of an extractor vent to go on bathroom ceiling
<https://www.envirovent.com/products/extractor-fans/silent-100/>
4. photo of ceiling in bathroom, vent to go somewhere in front of all the other items on ceiling above the bath
5. vent on bathroom ceiling, vent pipe up through small part of roof as bathroom ceiling very high, understand will go between roof joists/beams similar to current gas vent.

Hopefully I have now supplied all information needed but if you need anything else please let me know.

Kind regards

Liz Grebbell
