Hi Florian

Thank you for your plans which show further revisions. The increase in height and massing is considered acceptable and the mix of units which includes 5 x 1 bed, 4 x 2 bed and 6 x 3 bed is considered to accord with the SHLAA. The introduction of the green living system will add greening to the development and does not preclude the further redevelopment of the adjacent site as such this is considered to be consistent with the objectives of policy LLP25 of the LLP . In terms of the size of the balconies this is acceptable and I note your commitment to ensure that the flats meet the NDSS. I note your comments on proposed materials, this can be dealt with via condition. I do, however, have some concerns with regard to the yellow panels on the windows and do not think that this further detail is necessary, given the interest in terms of the different brickwork. In addition I would also suggest that the windows in the northwest elevation are uniform in positioning rather than adopting a staggered pattern.

As per our discussion at our recent meeting 20% of the flats will need to be affordable and these will need to be 2 or 3 bed units as there is no requirement for 1 bed flats. Please see the developer contributions SPD which provides details of the developer contributions required for the proposed development.

We have discussed at length the requirement to comply with policies LLP13 and LLP14 of LLP and this is explained in detail in my previous correspondence.

I hope that this is useful, If you require further advice please submit a further preapplication submission

Kind Regards

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
