Details of the pre-application advice received Proposal for the conversion of an outbuilding to home office It is not uncommon for outbuildings to be erected in residential gardens and used for incidental purposes. Paragraph E.4 of Class E of the permitted development order indicates that purposes incidental to the enjoyment of the house includes the keeping of poultry, bees, pet animals, birds or other livestock for the domestic needs or personal enjoyment of the occupants of the house. A purpose incidental to a house would not, however, cover normal residential uses, such as separate self-contained accommodation or the use of an outbuilding for primary living accommodation such as a bedroom, bathroom, or kitchen. In this instance the use of the outbuilding as a home office is one that is considered acceptable under permitted development and would not require an application for planning permission, provided the other criteria in relation to height and siting are met. We also discussed on site about the possibility of rebuilding the outbuilding or siting new outbuildings. The erection of outbuildings on the land does not necessarily require planning permission provided the use of the buildings are incidental to the main property and the size and siting limitations outlined under Class E are met. Authority Employee/Member With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following: (a) a member of staff (b) an elected member (c) related to a member of staff (d) related to an elected member It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent. For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority. Do any of the above statements apply? ○ Yes ⊘ No Interest in the Land Please state the applicant's interest in the land Owner ○ Lessee Occupier Other
