Description of Proposed Works

Please describe the proposed works

The proposed ground floor is essentially a double storey side extension and part rear extension, creating new functional spaces to meet the householders' needs. The side extension extends beyond the side wall by 2.18m, accommodating a staircase, utility room, a small bathroom and an open kitchen area.

The part rear extension extends 2.8m from the original wall. By eliminating the internal walls between the utility and kitchen, the space now becomes an open-plan kitchen, dining, and a living space with a small utility space as well.

The first floor extension on the front elevation has been provided with a set back of 1m from the original building line keeping in mind the terracing effect and the overall elevation. The proposed first floor include three bedrooms, two of which share a bathroom and the other has an attached bathroom.

The staircase has been altered and the direction of access has been reversed, leading from the open kitchen to the first floor hallway which further leads to the three bedrooms. One bedroom in the front, one on the left and another at the rear. Both the rear bedrooms and the bathrooms on the first floor are provided with skylights. The other two bedrooms have a shared bathroom. The hallway on the first floor has a visual connection to that on the ground floor through a cut-out making it a double height space bounded by a railing. The hallway has been provided with a skylight as well.

The roof of the extended part connects the hipped roof of the existing structure. This will result in a new roof that is offset from the ridge by 600mm. A total of five skylights are to be added on the roof.

Has the work already been started without consent?

Biodiversity net gain

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'biodiversity gain condition' requiring development to achieve a net gain of 10% of biodiversity value.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.
