Grounds for application for a Lawful Development Certificate
Under what grounds is the certificate being sought
 ☑ The use began more than 10 years before the date of this application ☐ The use, building works or activity in breach of condition began more than 10 years before the date of this application ☐ The use began within the last 10 years, as a result of a change of use not requiring planning permission, and there has not been a change of use requiring planning permission in the last 10 years ☐ The building works (for instance, building or engineering works) were substantially completed more than four years before the date of this application. ☑ The use as a single dwelling house began more than four years before the date of this application ☐ Other - please specify (this might include claims that the change of use or building work was not development, or that it benefited from planning permission granted under the Act or by the General Permitted Development Order).
Is the certificate being sought for a use, operation, or activity in breach of a condition or limitation?
○Yes
⊗ No
Please state why a Lawful Development Certificate should be granted
This is a very large property and too big for a single dwelling and thus has been split into multiple units/flats. These flats have been in operation for more than 10 years and certainly more than 4 years.
Two of the flats have been already registered on the street naming and numbering system as ground floor flat and first floor flat. However, due to the size of the property, there are other flats in the mix but unfortunately the previous owner (prior April 2023) did not declare them officially for unknown reasons but certainly have been renting them on a continuous basis without any interruptions.
A recent application was made for a 6m rear extension under the larger home extension application but got refused because the planning officer believed the building was divided into flats and therefore not a single dwelling.
For these reasons above a LDC should be granted.
